NetX 2025: Build a Competitive Future-Oriented Target Network

Carriers' sustainable profitability depends on network differentiation, customer service differentiation, and industry integration differentiation. Network differentiation will play the role of multipliers to help operators build differentiated customer service and industry integration.

As the old Chinese proverb says: "The more solid fundamentals are, the more luxuriant flowers and fruits will be". Networks are the foundation of operators. We believe that high-quality planning of target networks will lead to rich and fruitful business growth in the future.
